Blood Drive Planned

Students at Monterey Peninsula College are sponsoring a blood drive tomorrow (Friday) to benefit the children of a faculty member. It is not the first such drive that they have held at the campus, but it could be the last.

The drive is sponsored by Phi Sigma Chi, a men's service club at MPC and will be held from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the College Center. Students are being asked to donate their blood to the account of Mark and Brett Leach, the sons of Dr. Jack Leach, a political science instructor at the college. Mark and Brett need the vital clotting agent found in normal blood, called cryoprecipitate, because they suffer from hemophilia.

Several blood drives have been held at the college in the past and students have been able to stipulate that the cryoprecipitate from their blood go to the Leach boys. There will be no similar drives in the future at the college, however, because a regional Red Cross policy now requires that blood donated for cryoprecipitate production must be drawn in San Jose. The drive is being made as a one-time exception to the rule which went into effect May 1.

The Board of Administrators of the Monterey County District of the Red Cross went on record November 8 opposing the new policy by the Four County Region, according to Al Veterane, district director and asked the region to amend its policies to meet the needs of people in this area, such as the Leach family.

Sponsors hope that enough blood will be donated to the Leach boys' account in this drive to give the family and the local chapter of the Red Cross time to look for other ways of obtaining the vital blood components. The clotting agent may be purchased, but is very costly, and the Leach family has depended on donations from friends to fill the boys' needs.

During the day, students will volunteer their services to assist in organizing the drive. They will also caution those giving blood to be sure and specify if it is to be credited to Mark and Brett. If that isn't done, it will not be transferred to their account.

Each pint of blood donated for production of cryoprecipitate is actually able to benefit several people, sponsors of the drive point out. After the clotting agent is extracted, the blood may be used for other patients. Thus each pint of blood donated for cryoprecipitate production will help at least two people.

Proceeds Donated

Mrs. Stephen Conran of the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services presented a $5,242.45 check to Mr. Delbert Cram, president of the Board of the Family Service Agency, that represented net proceeds from the October 20 County Fair held at Monterey.

Mr. Cram accepted the gift and expressed gratitude, explaining the nature of the case work done by the Family Service Agency and "the continuing need for the services they offer to the community."

A gift of $450.00 was also presented to the USO for extra entertaining of service personnel during the approaching holiday season by the MPVS.

Members of the MPVS welcomed Mrs. John Power of Carmel Valley; Mrs. Laverne Marshall and Mrs. L. M. Browning, both of Carmel.

At a regular meeting of the MPVS last week, the following slate of officers was unanimously elected, and will take office at the first meeting of the New Year in January. Those members include: President Mrs. Robert McFarren of Carmel; Vice President, Mrs. Robert Robertson of Pebble Beach; Recording Secretary Mrs. J. W. Schaller of Pebble Beach; Corresponding Secretary Mrs. Franklin V. Johnston of Carmel; Treasurer, Mrs. R. C. White of Monterey and Parliamentarian, Mrs. Avery Tompkins of Carmel.

Presenting the nominating committee slate was Mrs. R. J. Hatterscheid of Pacific Grove; Mrs. Mary Belle Wilson of Pacific Grove; Mrs. George H. Macy of Carmel; Mrs. William F. Pratt of Carmel and Mrs. Viola Mills of Carmel, the chairman.

For information, phone Mrs. Allan Craig at 624-8261.

Meet Marie

Marie Gillan is the ambassador of good-will for the Seaside Chamber of Commerce, and she visits most business places to help pull them together for the benefit of all.

"If you want to join the chamber," says Marie, "I'll be glad to bring you a membership."

Marie's main purpose is not to submit memberships, but she will distribute maps and a smile that might make you feel better about the thing, says a Chamber spokesman.

Mrs. Lois Jennings is the person to contact at the Chamber if you find answers about things concerning the city of Seaside. In fact, she's often referred to as Mrs. Seaside.

The phone number at the Chamber is 394-6501.

AT MPC - Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Haymo Taeuber, presents second concert of season this Sunday evening, November 21, at 8 p.m. "Annual Deskplayers Night" program, with tickets available at box office night of performance, will be held at Monterey Peninsula College.

Seaside TV Mart Opens Here Today

The co-owners of the TV Mart of Seaside have announced the grand opening of their new store at 1721 Fremont Boulevard.

Owners Don Doyle and Gene Madison told the Post the new store had over 5000 square feet under one roof and offered a new dimension in appliance shopping for their introduction days Thursday through Sunday (November 18-21).

According to the owners, there are six stores under one roof, and the department there has a complete parts department, in-house service division with radio dispatcher trucks, over 300 television sets in stock.

And the television stocks include all major name brands, portables, consoles and combinations with over $120,000 in stock.

Also offered at the store will be a stereo department that the owners say is the most complete in Central California. Components, sonos and complete systems with 8 track tapes, major appliance departments, built-in ovens, dishwashers, ranges, garbage disposals.

The Mart also has over $100,000 in major appliances of the "big Three" of Westinghouse, Whirlpool and Philco-Ford in their stock.

In addition to the store "bargains" on all goods in stock there will be a drawing for free prizes which includes an RCA Victor Television, a Fashioncraft Recliner, an Electronic Stereo Component System and a Westinghouse Automatic Clothes Dryer.

Madison and Doyle said, "come in to see our store, we're proud of it and want you to enjoy it too."

Legal Aid Luncheon

A Legal Aid Society benefit luncheon will be held at the Highlands Inn in Monterey County on November 28, from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m.

Those desiring tickets should contact Mrs. Dorothy Vaughn or Carol Stokes at 394-8571.

CARE Has Gift Idea

"Between now and Christmas, life has a tendency to be more hectic than usual—most of us are faced with the chore of shopping for those difficult-to-buy-for people on our Christmas gift lists," Miss Molly Farmin, Regional Director of CARE, said recently.

"CARE has the solution to this dilemma," the spokesman continued. "Simply add the 25-year-old International development agency to your gift list."

Through this Holiday Gift Plan, problems of shopping, wrapping and mailing just the right gift are eliminated; friends are honored in a meaningful way and needy families overseas have received the help they so desperately need.

"It's so easy," Miss Farmin said. "You simply send a check to CARE asking that aid be sent to those less fortunate overseas. Enclose the names and addresses of those you wish to honor in this manner and CARE, in turn, will send attractive gift announcements back to you for your signature and mailing. The minimum contribution per name is $1 and is tax-deductible," she said.

"Something else to remember," the CARE spokesman concluded, "is the fact you are not simply purchasing Christmas cards, but rather are sending aid in your friends' names and are receiving a CARE gift card to advise them."

Contributions to the Holiday Gift Plan may be sent to the CARE Volunteer Chairman, who is Mr. Edward Fisher, Independent Savings and Loan, P.O. Box 8, Seaside or to CARE, 444 Market Street, San Francisco, California 94111.

Business Luncheon

Business people are invited to a no-host luncheon on Friday, November 19th at the Hofbrau (Fireside) starting at 12:05 p.m.

A portion of the meeting will be devoted to ways of brightening up Seaside for the Christmas season, with decoration firms on hand to offer suggestions for store-front and window decoration.

The Chamber of Commerce is hosting the meeting in cooperation with the Seaside Business Association, but non members as well as members are invited.

Other topics on the meeting's agenda will include ideas for after Christmas promotion. Emmett Segre will speak on Forgeries and Check Cashing.

Several other projects are being considered for the Calendar of 1972, with a schedule of publicity being planned to show that whatever it is available in Seaside—is available usually, at a better price.

The image of Seaside will be turned around to acquaint residents of Monterey Peninsula and Monterey County with the advantages of buying in Seaside.

Coffee and doughnuts were served at the November Tuesday 16 board meeting held 8 p.m., in the Chamber offices, and the discussion was centered around Catalog of sites, Operation upgrade and the Better Business Bureau.

Beach Preservation Bill Is Signed

Governor Ronald Reagan has signed into law the Wood beach preservation bill authored by Monterey County Assemblyman Bob Wood.

The bill was introduced by Wood at the request of the City of Monterey and the planning Commissioner Charles B. Kramer.

Although the bill was not introduced until September 8, quick action in the Assembly and in the Senate permitted its passage this year. It had been feared that a one year delay would result in more of the California coastline falling into the hands of speculative developers.

Although the proposal was advanced to save a particular beach in Monterey Bay, interest has been generated in the proposal because of its statewide implications. Wood pointed out that this bill, AB 2885, might possibly be the "only beach conservation and preservation bill of the year."

The bill basically provides local governments with a method to finance beach and seashore land acquisition. It gives local communities the opportunity to use the tax increment bond method of financing these land acquisitions. A tax increment bond may presently only be used by redevelopment agencies and is a bond on which the principal and interest may be paid from the property in the project which is attributable to increases in property value of the property prior to redevelopment.

As an example, if a blighted area has a total assessed value of $100 and is located within a county, a city and a school district, each of which imposes a tax of $1 for each $100 of assessed valuation, the total tax imposed on the property in the blighted area would be $3. If this property was then rebuilt in an urban renewal project and the assessed value of the area is increased to $200, assuming that the tax rate remained at $1 per $100 assessed valuation, $6 would be generated in taxes.

The taxes would be allocated to the city, the county and the school district as before $1 to each and the $3 extra tax generated because of redevelopment would be used by the redevelopment agency to pay the principal and interest on its bonds.

The Wood bill would give urban renewal agencies along the seashore the opportunity to use this means to get the financial ability to purchase beach land under threat of development.

Specifically, the bill provides that a seashore and adjacent uninhabited areas are blighted and may be designated an urban renewal project area (allowing the issuance of redevelopment bonds) if such property has the following characteristics:

1. There is eminent danger of substantial decline in coastal environment.

2. Need for public beach areas.

3. Danger to the quantity and quality of marine life.

The present law allows a redevelopment agency to be formed only if the area is blighted. The Wood beach preservation bill would classify this kind of beach land as "blighted" legally so the tax increment bond financing method will become available.

Of the total coastline in California, which is almost 1100 miles, over 600 miles are still in private hands. Much of this land is under threat of development, according to assemblyman Wood and "without a major coastline bill, this beach preservation bill is the best hope to try and preserve this land for public purposes."

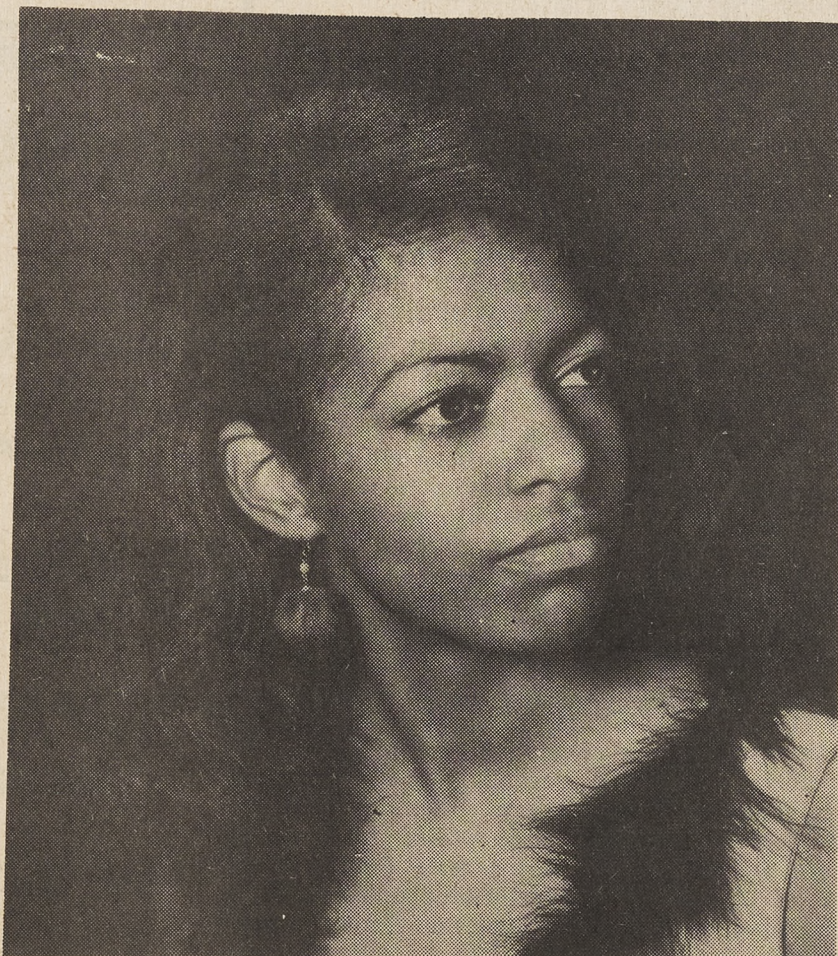

The bill was designed to save an area along the Monterey Bay known as Monterey Dunes. This 69 acre parcel of beach land is owned by several oil companies and a developer, who have planned to build a hotel complex and high density dwellings. Local conservationists and citizens formed the Citizens Committee for Del Monte Beach and began negotiations with the oil companies. A compromise was worked out whereby the back portion of the land would be used for development, while the beach frontage would be used for a public beach. The problem then arose of where to obtain the financial support to make the beach acquisition a reality. The City of Monterey, in which the beach is located, has too small a tax base to purchase a beach which would be for the benefit of the entire Monterey Peninsula and Californians visiting the area.

It was concluded that the tax increment bond financing method would be an ideal mechanism to save this beach land. Representatives of the City of Monterey then contacted Assemblyman Wood, who introduced AB 2885 after the deadline with the permission and cooperation of Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti (D, Los Angeles).

The bill was supported in Assembly and Senate Committees by representatives of the City of Monterey, the Ventura Chapter of the Sierra Club and the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society.

Attending the hearings from the City of Monterey were Mayor Al Madden, City Attorney Bill Marsh, City Manager John Nail and City Planning Director Dick Garrod. Representing the Sierra Club was Verne Sidnam and Earl Moser of Carmel. Charles B. Kramer appeared and testified on behalf of the Citizens Committee for Del Monte Beach.

Publisher's Report

Seaside Ripples

A. E. 'Andy' Barragan, Publisher

Today was another one of those days when it is hard to sit down and write a meaningful column, particularly after watching two football games. It is also hard to follow last week's column which was so full of erudite and spiritual thoughts, particularly since I swore off getting after anyone. I'll have to develop a new style which lets me get after something in a nice way without offending anyone. It is possible, I'm told, to get facts across without having to resort to barbs.

You just have to present the truth. I'll try. This week I heard many questions from local businessmen who were wondering about the wisdom of putting in another shopping center as was announced recently by the City and Urban Renewal over there on Canyon Del Rey Boulevard and Del Monte. They want to know first of all who the department store mentioned was and also who the market mentioned was. I don't know the answers to either of those questions and I haven't bothered to ask the officials involved because they might be secret and, besides, I am pretty sure that even the developers don't know for sure who the market or store are. Most of these big developers have three or four markets and department stores on their lists who have told them that if they found a good location they would be glad to consider the possibility of opening in that location. Look at what happened to the City of Monterey Redevelopment program. They waited for ten years for Penney's department store to make up its mind as to whether it was

At the same time, in Gallery Two, the works of Pat Carey and Claudia Peacock will be exhibited.

Grooving Around the Peninsula

with BETTY MANN

Hi there, fellow Peninsulaans:

I wish to focus on "Friends of the Angels," which is volunteer committee of community women and artists formed to save and refurbish Monterey's Christmas Angels. This committee has sent out an appeal for donations and peninsula wide sentiment to "save the angels." The angels in question are the beautiful and artistic brown angels that are positioned overhead on the light poles on Alvarado Street. These lovely doe-eyed angels gaze down from their lofty perch every year at Christmas time upon the local residents and visitors of the Monterey Peninsula. They have adorned the streets of Monterey at Christmas time for a number of controversial filled years. Local artist, Mrs. Erica Frank Barton designed and painted them and each one is an individually rendered oil painting. No two angels are alike. Much thought and work can be seen in the faces and designs of these decorations. A small percentage of local residents have complained for years that the angels were sad looking, ugly, drab, and much to dark to be angels!!!

For this writer's sake, would someone who has personally seen a real live angel please tell me whether they are lily-white with golden wings? I would personally like to believe that angels in heaven are replicas of every nationality of people that have ascended from earth to heaven. Could any person be so naive to think that every thing has to be in the likeness of one group of people?? I believe the artist was painting the angels in the likeness of the Spanish discoverers of Monterey. While Monterey takes great pride in its Spanish history with its adobes and various other Spanish relics. I would think that the brown (Spanish) angels would be considered most appropriate and traditional to grace the streets of Monterey at Christmas time.

While on the subject of city sponsored Christmas decorations, I've often wondered and questioned why Seaside, which is listed in all of the travel scenic brochures, as "the gateway to the Peninsula," has never seen fit to hang not even a yard of Christmas tinsel overhead on its light poles to extend warm holiday greetings to the many travelers and residents that pass on its main thoroughfares, such as Del Monte Avenue, Fremont Boulevard and Broadway. The perplexing past of this situation is that Seaside is considered the largest complex and its taxes are the highest on the entire peninsula. Why? The Seaside City Council appropriates money every year for a Fourth of July Parade which costs a few thousands of dollars, but yet at Christmas time, its stated that no funds are available for Christmas decorations on its streets. Is Christmas so insignificant to our City fathers? Or does the Fourth of July take precedence over the birth of the Prince of Peace??? Even tiny Pacific Grove extends its holiday spirit by decorating its main streets. Why doesn't Seaside???

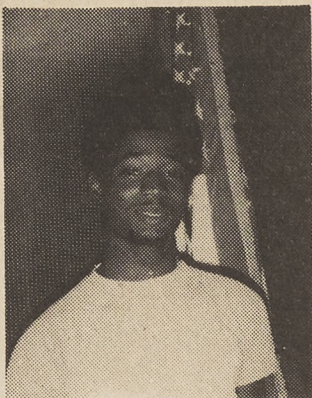

Begin Festivities around the peninsula: The ladies of the Elks of Kismet Temple Chapter, sponsored their annual Black & White Ball on November 6, at the San Carlos Hotel in Monterey. The affair was a great success, with its gaily and splendid bedecked guests enjoyed dancing to the music of Teddy and band.

Out at the Main NCO Club at Fort Ord, the club managers and the M.A.S. were packing the crowd in to hear the highly acclaimed 87th off Broadway Band, a group of local young music artists, who are noted for their "together" music. The Band was featured at the club in week long engagement. A standing-room crowd of over 600 packed the ballroom each night to enjoy the music. An interesting item that is sending out good vibes is the word that the NCO Club is making great efforts to please its clientele of every ethnic group. They are doing this by presenting different ethnic dishes as special on the daily menu in their dining room. Wednesday nite is soul food nite and features pigs feet, blackeyed peas and ham hocks, barbecued ribs, etc... The humorous part about this is that I hear a Chinese cook is preparing this. I'll betcha' he makes terrible chop suey!

Pre-Holiday events to come: The Reagents Club is sponsored a Hot Pants and Fancy Pants dance tomorrow (Friday) at Portuguese Hall from 9:30 p.m. until 1:30 a.m. Donations are $2. in advance, $2.25 at the door. Music will be furnished by Bob Cardwell and his band from Oakland. The members want the public to come and wear their hottest hot pants or fanciest long or short pants, and compete in the contest. Prizes will be awarded to the hottest and fanciest. WOW!! The affair is B.Y.O.B. cabaret type affair and B.Y.O.B. doesn't mean bring your "own" or bring your "old" baby, either. (Smile)

On November 28, the Legal Aid Society of Monterey County, which is located in Seaside, is sponsoring a Bridge, Whist, Tea and Fashion Show from 2 until 5 p.m. at the Highlands Inn. Donations are $5 per person. All proceeds from this affair benefit the Legal Aid Society fund, which is used to match federal funds each year. These matching funds must be raised in order to receive federal grants, which make their work possible. This affair will benefit the fund and this worthwhile project. Mrs. Jane Van Hook is the director of the local society.

The members of the Monterey Peninsula Cotillion League cordially invite the public to a Pre-Holiday Sunday evening of elegant fashions, cocktails and dancing on December 5 at the Main NCO Club, Fort Ord, in the main ballroom from 6:30 until 10:30 p.m. Models from the entire peninsula will show the latest in fashion. Music will be furnished by Mr. William Jackson and the Ace Hill Trio. Donation is $1 any member of the Cotillion League, including yours truly may be contacted for tickets.

ENLISTS - Rodney L. Swanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Stamps of Seaside, has recently enlisted in United States Army. Seaside High graduate chose to serve with 197th Infantry Brigade at Ft. Benning, Georgia. After basic training at Ft. Dix, New Jersey, he will be assigned to Georgia post for minimum of 16 months.

Amendment Is Adopted

The United States Senate has adopted California Senator John V. Tunney's amendment for tougher state consumer laws.

The amendment to the Consumer Product Warranty Act permits California and other states with consumer laws of their own to enact tougher standards than the Federal law.

The amendment was adopted by voice vote. It was co-sponsored by Senators Alan Cranston and Edward M. Kennedy. The amendment was the first to the full act, which is now before the Senate.

McGovern Headquarters Are Opened

Senator McGovern has announced the opening of the Central Headquarters for his Northern California Campaign for the Democratic Party Presidential nomination. The headquarters, located at 1435 Market Street, in San Francisco, will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and can be reached by phone at 415-864-7400. Senator McGovern believes that the California primary is extremely important, not only because it determines who brings the largest single block of delegates to the Democratic National Convention, but also because of the diversity of the state, which represents a cross-section of the population of this country.

Many local McGovern for President Committees are already formed throughout the state, in what is the strongest grassroots organization of any campaign for the Presidency; in addition to the Northern California Headquarters in San Francisco and the Southern California Headquarters in Los Angeles, several local headquarters are already open.

Winner Is Apply Now For Internship

Assemblyman Bob Wood has announced that applications are now being taken for the Assembly Internship Program for 1972-73.

The internship program, now in its 14th year, provides a 10-month working education in the Assembly for recent college graduates with bachelors or advanced degrees in fields such as political science, journalism, history, government or law.

The ten interns chosen will be assigned to staff positions with Assembly committees or other Assembly offices. The interns will research legislation, assist in committee business, write reports and be given special assignments by members or staff consultants.

The internship begins September 1, 1972 and ends June 30, 1973. Interns are paid $650 a month from the California Assembly Internship Program, Assembly Office of Research, Assembly Post Office Box 91, State Capitol, Sacramento, California 95814 or by writing to Assemblyman Bob Wood's Salinas office, 32 East Alisal St., Salinas, California 93940.

going to build in the redevelopment area and then, when Penney's decided not to, Monterey was left holding the bag after romancing them for ten years. Now they are talking about a convention center which is what they should have been looking at ten years ago. Once the Del Monte Shopping Center was built, it was foolish to think that any other major department store would succeed in the crowded downtown area of Monterey.

Speaking of the Del Monte Shopping Center, I understand that the stores up there have not really hit it big either. And here we are talking about another shopping center for Seaside. Now don't get me wrong, I'm all for another department store and market in the Seaside Area. It would mean more advertising for me and the POST and, of course, I would like that. However, before they go any farther, I and many other businessmen in this area would like to be shown the feasibility studies which show that such a shopping complex can succeed in this or any other area on the peninsula. Maybe the studies show a large increase in population here in Seaside and Marina that could support another department store. In the meantime, we already have MBS, which carries as much merchandise as many of the other major department stores and has been established here for so many years. There are Supersave Market, Safeway, Mayfair and the Seaside Market already in the area, not to mention many other smaller markets and the PX at Fort Ord, who already are competing for the consumer grocery dollar.

As I said earlier, maybe the experts can show me that we need another shopping complex. I hope so. We can always use more advertising.

The Seaside Businessmen's Association has scheduled its next membership meeting for Tuesday, December 7, at noon at the Fireside Hofbrau. Program speaker for the meeting will be Chief Ben Cooper of the Seaside Police Department and detective Terry Mangan. They will discuss the Seaside Police Aides Program and give businessmen and women some tips and instructions on how to handle the "holiday shopper."

The new businessmen's association under the leadership of Ed Weiner of Del Rey Supply, got off to a great start a couple of months ago. At the last meeting of the executive board a couple of weeks ago a suggestion was made that the businessmen affiliate with the Seaside Chamber of Commerce. After much discussion, the consensus of the meeting was that the Businessmen's Association remain independent and try to work with the Chamber as a separate organization. It was felt that there were certain matters which it could better handle as an independent organization. I think that the businessmen need such an independent organization and that with the co-operation of all of the businessmen in the community it could be made into an organization which will be an asset to the community.

Other important happenings in the business community included the take over of the Fremont Pharmacy by Dick Penrose, presently at the Seaside Rexall Pharmacy on Broadway. Dick is holding an extraordinary "one-third off" sale at the Fremont Pharmacy. Jeannie and I stopped in and took advantage of the many bargains that we were able to pick up. (see the ad they are running in this week's POST). Another grand opening is scheduled for this week. TV Mart is moving into their new home at 1721 Fremont Blvd. They will have over 500 square feet of space in their new home and will offer six complete departments, service, televisions, stereo, built-ins, major appliances and furniture. Drop in and see Don Doyle and Gene Madison. You might win one of the great prizes they are offering.

MBS department Store is also running a large ad in this week's issue of the POST. It is on auto supplies and features a sale on nationally famous B.F. Goodrich Belted Tires. I know that many of our readers already trade with MBS regularly, but you might drop in and take a look at their automotive department and take advantage of the bargains being offered. We should support our local businessmen.

Take a look through the pages of the POST and tell them where you saw their ad.

Your Social Security

Q -- I will soon file for social security at age 62 since I am retiring then. Will I be eligible for Medicare also?

A -- No. Even though you will receive cash benefits at age 62 under the social security program, you must be age 65 before you can be entitled to Medicare coverage.

Q - I will be 65 soon but do not plan to retire yet. Is there anything I have to do about social security?

A -- Even if you plan to keep working, you will file your social security application two to three months before 65. This will give you protection under Medicare as soon as you are 65. Also, it is possible in some cases to pay benefits for at least part of the year even when you work full-time all year.

I was in a bad automobile accident and was laid up for three months with serious bone fractures. Since I had no earnings during this period, could I collect social security disability benefits?

No, monthly social security disability benefits can be paid only for a severe disability that is expected to last a year or longer. Monthly payments may start with the seventh month of disability. In addition, the disability must be so severe that it makes it impossible for the worker to engage in any substantial gainful activity.

As I See It

By Mel Vercoe

Ho, Boy. Things are looking up. For once I have good news. Of course there is nothing constructive about reporting good news, but it usually sounds better.

First of all, the California State Senate shot down a bill that would have given 18-year-olds all the rights of adulthood except the right to get stinko on booze. This means these kids will have to wait until they are 21 before some loan shark or other unscrupulous person can trick them into signing some disastrous contract. As minors they can't even be sued, no matter what and although girls who are aged 18 can marry some poor fellow without asking permission of the girls' parents, the guys still have to wait until they are 21 unless they can get their parents consent to such a horrible fate.

Second, a news item from Washington, D.C., states that the U.S. Patent office grants more than 1,000 patents each Tuesday at noon. This is encouraging because it means it is just a question of time until some inventor figures out a simple way for us to evaporate all of our sewage effluent so we won't have to ruin the ocean with it.

Then, the stock market kept going down all week, which is also good, because eventually it will hit bottom and there won't be any direction for it to go but up, which is supposed to be good. Personally, that never did make sense to me. We are supposed to be in deep trouble because of inflation and the stock market climbing out of sight was generally accepted as a boom in business, which generally meant more inflation...? Please. Will some reader please try to clarify that for me?

Also encouraging is the new price control set-up as announced by the President's Price Commission. It is so complex and ambiguous and so carefully avoids getting to the real root of the problem that it can't help but accomplish both of its assigned purposes. First, is a direct assurance to big business that the President has no intention of hurting corporate profits or the money lending business. Second, by the time people recognize it for a diversionary tactic the 1972 election will be over and we will have Mr. Nixon's capable hands at the helm for another four years, along with occasional guidance from Martha Mitchell. All of this is good, of course, because at this point I don't think the American people could psychologically survive a sudden transformation to an honest democratic form of government.

Best news of all, perhaps is the California Judicial Council guideline for selecting jurors in Superior and Municipal courts. Beginning January 1, jurors will be asked about possible bias because of race, religion, nationality or a differing life style. A sharp defense attorney will then have clear justification for demanding a change of venue for a defendant who is, for example, on trial for murder, but who obviously should be tried by jurors who practice Zen, are hippies, are half Eskimo and half Irish (or whatever the defendant happens to be) and were born in Rome, but are now naturalized Swedes.

Be of good cheer, Scientists now believe the sun will outlast the earth.

Bob Wood Reports

Last week the Legislature passed a bill which touches on a problem that has been with us in the Salinas Valley and most agricultural areas in the state for many years. This same problem has gradually moved in to urban areas as well. The bill concerns itself with the 200,000 illegal entrants from other countries, particularly Mexico, who are gainfully employed in this state.

The problem is that this illegal force is displacing many Mexican-American and others who are lawful citizens and resident workers of the United States. A couple of months ago government forces stated there were over 600,000 unemployed in California alone. Since that time the experts tell us this figure has decreased, which is gratifying to all of us. However, if the jobs of the 200,000 illegal entrants were held by lawful citizens our unemployment rate in California could theoretically be reduced by a third.

Several farmers throughout the Valley have notified me that they were concerned and worried as they were afraid that the law would penalize a man who innocently had employed a farm labor crew and an alien had later been found to be in the crew by the Border Patrol. The farmer himself had hired the crew not knowing the citizenship status of each and every member of the labor crew. I know this can happen. It has happened to me a couple of times over the years when I was farming in southern Monterey County.

Those of you in agriculture will be glad to know this bill was not intended to penalize those employers. However, the bill is intended to penalize those employers who knowingly hire aliens which in turn would displace local workers.

ANNUAL QUEEN BALL

Past Exalted Ruler Council 119, I.B.P.O.E. of W. Central California, held their Annual Queen Ball in the beautifully decorated Pacific Room at the Hotel San Carlos of Monterey on Saturday, October 16. Approximately 300 guests witnessed the crowning of the queen and enjoyed an evening of dancing to the music of the Dynamic Three.

Queen contestants were from Bakersfield, Fresno, Monterey and Tulare. However, Miss Fresno was unable to attend due to unfortunate circumstances.

Ada Hooks of Seaside, contestant for the local lodge, was crowned queen of the ball by Enda Williams of Tulare, who was first runner up. Mrs. Williams was also queen last year. Barbara Cathcart of Bakersfield was second runner up. These lovely ladies were very beautiful in their floor length gowns.

Mrs. Hooks, a supervisor in the Data Processing Division at Fort Ord, was escorted around the ballroom by Brother Alfonso Taylor following her victory. Also sharing her reward was Seaside's Exalted Ruler, Harvey Henton. Mrs. Hooks is eligible to participate in competition during the Pacific States Convention's Queen contest, which will be held in Fresno in June 1972.

Monterey was honored to have the President of Pacific States Association and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Kelly of Pittsburg, California; Chief Atler of the Central Council; Mr. Thomas Riley and his wife of Bakersfield and First Scrib and Mrs. Brown of Tulare. Also sitting at the head table was Seaside Councilman Stephen Ross.

Credit should be given to Mrs. Jesse Edwards of Seaside for her long arduous hours of work, which made this affair a grand success.

On Sunday, October 17, the PER Council 119 held their monthly meeting at the Elks Rest of Seaside, which the President, PSA attended. A buffet supper was available for members and their guest following the meeting.

DAILEY AND ROSE

Linda Joyce Baxter Dailey and K. Thomas Rose, were united in marriage on October 9 in the First Presbyterian Church of Monterey. Rev. Elmer W. Roy performed the 2p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Baxter of Seaside, wore a beige and white floor length gown, styled with long chiffon sleeves with white lace cuffs and "V" cut neckline. The Bodice was covered with white lace over chiffon and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations and baby yellow roses. Her attendant was Patty Gaglioti of Del Rey Oaks, who wore a long velvet maroon skirt with pink bodice. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The bridesgroom, son of Mrs. John Johnson of Roseburg, Oregon, chose his brother Paul Rose of Redding to serve as best man. John Baxter of San Jose, Brother of the bride, was the usher. Ring bearers were the bride's children, Johnna and Tommy Dailey of Pacifica.

Linda, a graduate of Folsom High School of Sacramento, in '62, attended Sacramento State College and MPC. She graduated from San Francisco State College this year and is presently employed with the Department of Correction for the State of California. She is also a graduate student at San Francisco State, where she is studying for a Masters Degree.

Mr. Rose finished Golden Gate Law School in October 1971 and was, until that time, employed at CIT Corporation of San Francisco.

A reception immediately following the wedding was held in the LaNovia Room at the Naval Postgraduate School of Monterey, where Judy Smith was in charge of the guest book.

Among many out-of-town guest from Anaheim, Riverside and San Francisco, were the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, and a close friend of the family, Mrs. Verna Hatfield of Roseburg, Oregon.

The newlyweds are making their first home in Pacifica.

Solutions to Freeway Noise Are Discussed

Three sources that could be exploited in controlling the noise generated by freeway traffic were identified recently by the California Department of Public Works in testimony presented at the National Hearing on Noise Abatement and Control in Washington, D.C.

They are: (1) reduction in the amount of noise emitted by the vehicle; (2) adequate land use zoning adjacent to highways by local government and (3) highway design and location.

Emerson Rhyner described the first steps reducing noise at its source. He said it could be achieved through legislation that would require a reduction of motor vehicle noise generated over a time period of sufficient duration to allow for necessary modifications in vehicle design.

In this respect, Rhyner cited the need for national standards that would set noise emission standards for vehicles that cross state lines.

Individual states, however, said Rhyner, should be permitted to establish more stringent standards than those set by the federal government if conditions within their boundaries warrant sterner controls.

He said that his department is supporting the California Highway Patrol in developing and expanding new law enforcement techniques and procedures on noise control.

Rhyner identified zoning, land use and building structure regulations as a prerogative and responsibility of local government. Ideally, he said, local governments would establish land uses adjacent to freeways that are compatible to noise, provide for separation of noise-sensitive activities from proximity to freeways and provide for sound reduction through building design and site location.

B.B. King Is Honored

Blues singer B. B. King was recently honored in the House of Representatives by Congressman Richard Fulton (D, Tennessee) for his performance at the Tennessee State Penitentiary and appearances at six other penal institutions.

The institutions where King has performed include the Cook County Jail, Chicago; Lorton Reformatory, Lorton, West Virginia; Dade County Stockade, Miami, Florida; Nashville, and Wisconsin State Reformatory, Fox Lake, Wisconsin.

King also appeared in concert at Walpole, Massachusetts with F. Lee Bailey, chairman of the penal reform committee of the American Trial Lawyers Association, as emcee, and at the Federal Penitentiaries at Leavenworth, Kansas and Danbury, Connecticut.

Silent Fast

The National Lawyers' Guild has revealed that 100 prisoners at Attica State Prison in New York held a day-long silent fast in memory of the 32 prisoners who died in the Attica massacre September 15.

The group was reportedly being segregated from the remainder of the prison population.

THE PHONE BOOTH

You can save money by choosing how and when you call long distance.

I'd like to remind you that it's possible to save quite a bit of money on many long distance phone calls you make within California. Just keep these things in mind.

First, you can save at least 20% on a three-minute station-to-station long distance call by dialing direct instead of placing it through the Operator.

Second, long distance station-to-station rates vary depending on when you call. The rates go down after 6 p.m. every night and on the weekends.

Here's an even better bargain. Between 11 p.m. and 8 a.m. every night you can now dial direct (without operator assistance) to anywhere in California for 49 cents or less, plus tax, for the first three minutes. This 49 cent station-to-station rate also applies from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. every Sunday and on Washington's Birthday, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year's Day, too.

Committee to Study Grunsky's Proposal

State Senator Donald L. Grunsky has announced that his legislative proposal to add psychiatric technicians to the list of "safety members" eligible for increased industrial death and disability benefits will be the subject of special study by the Assembly Retirement Committee.

Senator Grunsky said he has been informed by Assemblyman E. Richard Barnes, chairman of the Assembly Retirement Committee, that Senate Bill 540 will be considered as a special order of business before the Committee in a hearing to be held in San Diego on December 2 and 3.

Senator Grunsky's proposal, which he introduced on behalf of the California Society of Psychiatric Technicians, included the psychiatric technicians within new "state safety members" category of membership of the Public Employees' Retirement System and to provide industrial death and disability benefits, workmen's compensation benefits with respect to heart trouble and leave of absences in lieu of disability payments for injuries arising out of employment.

Senator Grunsky said, "I am pleased that the Committee made the decision to study this proposal. The psychiatric technicians have a high priority for consideration of these benefits and I am sure that the Committee will recommend this legislation be considered again next session."

"In my opinion there are many classes of state employees who are now eligible for these benefits; whose need, although important and justified, is not as great as that of the psychiatric technicians who man our state hospitals," Assemblyman Barnes said the Committee will be interested in comments relative to six points as follows:

*The adequacy of present "miscellaneous" and "general" member retirement benefits.

*The type of additional benefits that should be extended if present benefits are found to be inadequate.

*The extent of which additional benefits should be extended, (should benefits be extended to limited classifications of employees, or to all members of the system).

*If extension is to be limited, what criteria should be utilized in determining eligibility?

*What would be the cost of extending the benefits?

*How would the cost be funded—from increased employee contributions; employer contributions; General Fund expenditures; through a substitute benefit transfer of Social Security coverage? Barnes said the Committee welcomes individuals or group representatives to testify on the bill. Anyone wishing to be heard may contact Senator Grunsky's Office to assure a place on the agenda.

Senator Grunsky said he is prepared to reintroduce the bill again next session should the Committee determine to make favorable recommendations. He also indicated that should the Committee determine that the legislation is in the best interests of the state, that the subject may become part of a Committee bill, giving it broader support and increasing the chances for the measure to pass the Legislature.

The Committee hearing will be held in Room B 109, State Building, 1345 Front Street, San Diego, California.

Poll Says Nix on Agnew

In California, Vice President Spiro Agnew would be more of a drag than a boost to President's Nixon's chances for re-election next year, according to the latest California Poll, directed by Merwin D. Field.

While Agnew has strong appeal to conservative California Republicans, he has little appeal to other Republicans or Democrats of all ideologies.

Perhaps surprisingly, in California Governor Ronald Reagan appears to be an even poorer choice for vice president than Agnew. Reagan does not rank high as a vice presidential choice among Republicans and apparently repels a sizeable proportion of Democrats, according to Field.

Both New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller and Secretary of the Treasury John Connally appear to have stronger vice presidential appeal to Californians than either Reagan or Agnew.

These were the results of the tally of answers to the following question put to a representative statewide cross-section of potential voters in next year's election:

"These men have mentioned as possible vice presidential candidates to run with President Richard Nixon next year, assuming that President Nixon decided to run for re-election. Which one would you be more likely to vote for if he appeared as the vice presidential candidate?"

The number of voters, statewide, least likely to vote for Reagan was 35 percent; Agnew, 24 percent; Rockefeller, 17 percent; Connally, 14 percent; none of these, 2 percent and don't know 8 percent.

African Demanded

The Progressive National Baptist Convention U.S.A. Inc., Dr. Earl Harrison, Washington, D.C. President calls for the election of an African to succeed Mr. U. Thant as Secretary General for the United Nations Organization.

The Convention convened in Houston, Texas recently in the Shamrock Hilton Hotel where 2,000 delegates representing a membership of 1,500,000 Baptist throughout the U.S.A. adopted the report of the Committee on the United Nations Organization, which called for the election of Mr. Endakapchew Makonin of Ethiopia to the post of Secretary General.

The Committee's Report follows:

"Progressive Baptists believe that world peace is within the grasp of our generation. We are united in prayer for world peace and shall continue to work until this end. War is both immoral and primitive, therefore, serves no good purpose, within our enlightened society. Peace is everybody's business, regardless of faith or political persuasion.

"Progressive Baptists, throughout the United States, strongly support the United Nations organization as an essential instrument for world peace. We have noted accord-

Cadillac Is 70 Years Young In 1972

Cadillac Motor Car Division in 1972 celebrates 70 years as a car maker—all in Detroit, the auto capital of the world.

This is where it all began. Others have come and gone but Cadillac remains as the city's oldest automobile manufacturer.

As is common with so many great institutions, Cadillac's origin was quite humble. It began in 1902 in the Detroit shop of Henry Leland a Vermont boy by birth and a tool maker by trade.

Leland's continuous pursuit of excellence and his insistence on accuracy and craftsmanship are credited with earning for Cadillac its early fine reputation.

In 1915 Cadillac introduced the first production V-8 engine. The announcement was public ridiculed by competitive manufacturers. The outgrowth was another early victory for Cadillac—an eloquent and moving advertisement entitled, "The Penalty of Leadership." It was written in answer to those competitive criticisms, and not only silenced the critics, but enlisted a great and admiring new following.

The 1920's as Cadillac were by the expansion of production and sales facilities and continued innovation like the introduction of safety glass as standard equipment and the new synchro-mesh transmission to name a couple.

One of the highlights of the Twenties was the 1927 introduction of the LaSalle. It was designed by the late Harley Earl, generally regarded as the father of automotive styling.

The 1930's was the era of the big engines and classic styling. Cadillac offered the V-8, V-12 and the V-16 engines. The nation's economy was in a tailspin, and in some of those years in the Thirties Cadillac produced fewer cars than are now built in a week.

In 1940 full recognition was given to the efficiency of the V-8 engine and it was the only engine used in each of 25 body styles. During this period, three out of every four luxury cars sold were Cadillacs.

Health Is Aided By International Schools

A comprehensive health care and family planning demonstration, expected to serve as a model for developing nations and poverty areas in the United States, is the goal of a new cooperative project of the UCLA School of Public Health, the University of Ghana and the United States Agency for International Development (USAID).

Dr. F. T. Sai, Ghana's director of medical services, and Dr. Alfred K. Neumann, assistant professor of public health at UCLA, are co-directors of the project.

Financial and technical support is provided by USAID. The total budget for the projected six-year program is about $3,000,000.

Dr. Neumann, just returned from a visit to Ghana, says the project is going well.

"I am much impressed with the teamwork of the Ghanaian and UCLA staff," he says. "Family planning services are a major aspect of the project. We assume such services can be successfully introduced and accepted only when populations are assured that their children have a reasonable chance of surviving to maturity. This assumption is being tested as part of the research and evaluation aspect of the program."

A goal of the program is a model rural health service system which depends primarily on non-physicians.

The code requires public school teachers to be licensed by the state, following their attainment of a prescribed level of education," but when it comes to private schools, the code merely states that their teachers should be "persons capable of teaching."

State law exempts from attendance of public school those children who attend full-day private schools. The definition of "full-day" is left to the individual private school.

The code specifies as required subjects in private schools health and physical education instruction, fine arts, English, math, social sciences and science. However, the code fails to specify how much of such instruction is required.

"I uphold the rights of people to have private education," said Riles. "I think they ought to have information about the quality of education their children are getting, though, and I hope that they are insisting that it is adequate. If not, then they are doing a serious disservice to their own children."

Private schools are required to register with the state and students who attend unregistered schools are considered to be truants.

Warns On Private Schools

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Wilson Riles has warned that in the event California's private schools are either unwilling or unable to regulate their operations better, they may find themselves facing such regulation at the imposition of the state.

"Right now, the public health officials have more to say about private schools than the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and the State Board of Education combined," said Riles.

He added that an investigation of private schools which has been conducted recently shows that the Education Code "provides very little direction and control and almost no standards for private schools."

One out of four cars sold in the United States this year, or 2.5 million out of ten million -- is expected to be in the sub-compact category.

More than half that number of small cars -- 1,266,000 -- were sold during the first eight months of 1971.

Volkswagen, which led the list with 388,000, continued to head the mini-car parade, but failed to record any gains over 1970 sales.

Its competitors, foreign and domestic, were showing sharp increases, with Ford's Pinto and Chevrolet's Vega running a close race for second place.

Pinto sales for the first eight months totaled 221,000, with Vega only
